The Unified Development Code contains an Annual Review Requirement (1.1.7). This requirement is to fine-tune the code over time. The 2013 Annual Review process resulted in a work plan of improvements and actions related to the UDC. Public Comment was taken on the work plan at a public hearing on February 19, 2013. The work plan was updated based on public input, recommendations from Planning Commission and presented to the City Council at a work session on April 23, 2013. This proposal below, relating to elections signs was generated by the annual review process.

The primary concern at the annual review meeting was that there were too many limitations on election signs. There was also concern relating to the ability of a business or individual to communicate messages via signage that may not be related to business activities.

Election Signs. This proposal establishes election signs as their own sign category as opposed to including them as “temporary” signs generally. As a separate category of signs, the proposal has no limit to the quantity of election signs on a property and no limit for the time frame of signs on a property. This proposal does limit the size of election signs to 6 square feet per sign in residential zones and 32 square feet per sign in non-residential zones. These signs are limited to private property.

The existing requirements being amended limit election signs as temporary signs to a maximum of two signs per Lot and a time limitation of starting 10 or 45 days prior to the earliest candidate registrations time and then to remove the signs within 10 days of the election.

Ideological Signs. This proposal also creates a new category of sign to accommodate a business’s or individual’s desire to communicate a non-business related message on a sign which we are calling ideological signs. As a separate category of signs, the proposal has no limit to the quantity of ideological signs on a property and no limit to the time frame of signs on a property. This proposal does limit the size of ideological signs to 8 square feet per sign in residential zones and compliance with all applicable sign requirements in non-residential zones. These signs are limited to private property.

The existing requirements do not call out ideological signs specifically and the placements of ideological signs are regulated by general sign requirements.

At the Planning Commission Meeting on October 21, 2013, Planning Commission recommended approval by a vote of 4-1. The dissenting vote expressed concern about the residential regulations and if the unlimited quantity allowance for ideological signs may have adverse impacts to neighborhoods.
Add the following sign types to Table 6-14: Sign Types

Election Sign
- a sign relating to a candidate, issue, proposition, ordinance or other matter to be voted upon by the electors of the city.

Ideological Sign
- a sign conveying a philosophical, religious, political, charitable or other similar noncommercial message.

Add the following to Table 6-15: Residential District Sign Allowances

Election Signs
- No single sign shall be more than 6 square feet
- No quantity restriction per lot
- No time limitations

Ideological Signs
- No single sign shall be more than 8 square feet
- No quantity restriction per lot
- No time limitations

Add the following to Table 6-16: Non-Residential District Sign Allowances

Election Signs
- No single sign shall be more than 32 square feet
- No quantity restriction per lot
- No time limitations

Ideological Signs
- Must comply with all other requirements for signs in nonresidential districts
- No quantity restrictions
- No time limitations

Add the following clarification to 6.5.7i Prohibited Signs; Off-premise signs

Off-premise signs located on private property, unless election or ideological or approved as part of a temporary use permit
