

What is the Cheyenne Historic Preservation Board?

The Preservation Board was created in 1986 to be the City's representative for the Certified Local Government Program created under the U.S. Department of the Interior and the National Park Service to preserve nationally significant historic properties.

The Board is currently composed of 11 individuals appointed by the Mayor of Cheyenne and confirmed by the City Council. These appointments are three year terms and are based on their training and interest in history, archaeology, architecture, or other related fields.

The Board holds regularly scheduled meetings that are open to the public. Please see the How Can I Help? section of this brochure for more information.

A special thanks to all board members past and present for your hard work, dedication, and volunteer hours in safeguarding the historic integrity of Cheyenne.

How Can I Help?

The monthly meetings of the Cheyenne Historic Preservation Board are open to the public and any interested citizens of Cheyenne are welcome to attend. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month at 6:00 p.m. in Room 122 of the Cheyenne Municipal Building, 2101 O'Neil Avenue.

If you would like to help with any of the Board's projects or missions, please feel free to contact us using the information provided in this brochure.

Volunteers are always needed and happily welcomed to assist with our various projects and events throughout the year!

THE MISSION of the Cheyenne Historic Preservation Board is to safeguard the City's historic structures and features. The Board works to foster civic pride in its past and to promote the use, re-use, and adaptation of historic structures, districts, and landmarks for the education, pleasure, and welfare of the people of the city.

They also encourage the preservation of historic integrity in land use and development planning.
